

Mariana Machado

Architect.

I am a curious architect who is always trying to learn something new. I am skilled in solving problems, communicating and adapting to new scenarios. In my previous experience I learned how to manage time efficiently, priority tasks and the ability to deliver.

I am deeply interested to be part of an Studio who focuses on research, multiscalar projects and aims to show the authenticity of materials. My goal is to improve my design process skills, critical thinking, as well as, the sensibility to approach design.
